Riviera di Ulisse Regional Park
 Della Breccia road n. 5 GAETA (LT) - ITALY

Welcome to Riviera di Ulisse park

Welcome to an area where you can award yourself 3 jewels. They are set in an antique land that tells stories of mankind, heroes and of legends in a rare example of "living" together between beauty, nature, historical architecture and archaeology. All of which is framed by a sea that is witness of human events, creator of the landscape's evolution and of a splendid picture of much beauty.

Places where rocky mountains tell of a surprising past, make up of transparent tropics and lagoons.

A territory that narrates the legendary voyages of Ulysses and of his men, in which every corner you can breathe something that is indefinite borderline between history and myth, beginning from emperor Tiberius with the "Odissey marble quarry", which intends to celebrate the presumed origins of his family.

A park where history has left a deep sign. From ancient Rome to the Borbonic era, from the first to the second world war, each corner... narrates.

And you'll come in contact with all of the most authentic essential that the Mediterranean scrub offers, in which some areas appear so kindly unrestrained. From myrtle to mastic, from heather to broom flowers, the explosiveness of which season with its colors and perfumes are each time new and different.

Try to immerse yourself in the Mediterranean scrub between dawn and dusk, the fragrance becomes more intense and magic slowly arises.

Try to walk along the paths when, in April, spring explodes, you will find yourself catapulted into a "gallery" of yellow broom flowers. And then the cork oak trees of Gianola, dwarf palm bushes of Monte Orlando, the scrubland (garrigue) of Sperlonga. A really surprising variety of botanic plants in a limited space.

Therefore, live the park lightening up your senses, listen to the sound of nature, enjoying the sounds of silence, filling your wings with this sea that smells of Myrtle. Bring your children and teach them beauty. Come and experience it with us. We will be waiting for you.

The Riviera di Ulisse Park includes three regional protected natural areas runings along the south coast of Lazio: Monte Orlando, Gianola and Monte Scauri and the Natural Monument of Sperlonga.

The overall extension of those areas is 434 terrestrial hectares plus 101 marine hectares. They represent a complex ecosystem who offers to visitors beautiful views during all seasons and unique environmental characteristics: promontories, cliffs, caves and seafloors teeming with life and a Mediterranean vegetation that includes rare species. All three protected areas also include many historical and archaeological sites.
